

DO-X LEAVES RIO D'JANERIO FOR NEW YORK

Giant German Seaplane
Take Off Early Wednesday for Long Trip
WILL MAKE STOPS

Two Women Aboard Largest Plane on Flight

(BULLETIN)
ABOARD THE SPEED PLANE
DO-X.—Stopping at Caravelas on the Brazilian sea coast only long enough to fill our ship's huge tank
with fuel and permit passengers
and crew to eat a welcome hot luncheon, the DO-X swept northward this afternoon on its one hundred mile an hour journey to New York.

ABOARD THE DO-X, Aug. 5.—
With her twelve engines beating rhythmically, the great German seaplane DO-X was skirting the verdant shores of Brazil this morning, soaring in the direction of Caravelas, the first stop on the way to New York.

To our right stretched the Atlantic, calm and blue, like a great
mirror; to our left the luxuriant, many-colored tropical jungle. We were in high spirits and had not yet begun to feel the effects of the brilliant equatorial sun.

Our ship felt as solid as an ocean liner and we were able to move about freely without danger
of upsetting the equilibrium of our craft.

LEAVE AT 4 A. M.
All members of the crew and the eleven passengers, which included two women, had been told to be at the Quay Pharos, at Rio De Janeiro, where the DO-X was moored, at 6 a. m., (4 a. m., Eastern Standard Time) in readiness
for the take-off a half hour later.

The engines had been tested and the ship provisioned for the long northward passage. Captain Paul Bernier lost no time in starting.
Clarence Schindler, American
agent, was at the controls.

A member of the DO-X crew
gave her the gun and the seaplane skimmed along the surface of the bay into the wind. Leaving a trail of white foam, she at length began to skip a little, then lifted beautifully into the air and headed over Rio. We started exactly on schedule, at 6:30 a. m., (4:30 a. m., E. S. T.).

CIRCLE OVER RIO
Below we could see the streets
filled with well-wishers for a successful voyage and the brilliant white buildings of the city. As a tribute to the hospitable city
which had been the host of the
DO-X since her arrival from across the Atlantic from Friedrichshafen, Captain Bernier circled over it before turning north.

We were told that we should reach Caravelas about noon, in time for luncheon, but if we wished we could have sandwiches and drinks on board. As we have no kitchen, we shall have to rely on hotels at the places on our itinerary for hot food. After Caravelas
the next stop on our schedule was Bahia. There the DO-X will stay overnight before proceeding
towards Natal, Para, Paramaribo,
Trinidad, San Juan and Miami.

Among the most enthusiastic passengers to board the DO-X at Rio were Mrs. Bessie Adams of Syracuse, N. Y., and "Miss Germany of 1930." The latter is now
Mrs. Doris Von Clausbrunn, wife of one of our pilots.

Mrs. Adams has long been air-minded. She was aboard the Graf Zeppelin when it set out from Friedrichshafen on a trans-Atlantic voyage, but had to turn back
when over Spain because of disabled engines.

WILL RESURFACE
ORIENT HIGHWAY

Proposals will be received at the office of the county commissioners
until 12 o'clock noon Tuesday, Sept. 8, for the resurfacing of a part of the Harrisburg-Fairfield road, Number 20, (Orient Road) in Scioto-town. The specifications for doing the work are on file in the offices of the county auditor and county surveyor.

CLARKSBURG FIELD
DAY IS THURSDAY

Almost every detail has been completed to make the Clarksburg
Annual Field Day, Thursday, one
of the biggest events that has ever occurred in that village.

Several bands have been secured
for the occasion and a big day is promised for everyone.

Theodore H. Tangeman, director of commerce in Governor
White's cabinet, and Secretary of State C. J. Brown will be speakers for the day.

THIS FLOCK MUST BE VERY CONTENT

Here's a mark for poultry fanciers to shoot at!
Ebbie Converse, Lafayette Road,
Darby-town, has a flock of White
English Indian Runner ducks
which have averaged 207 eggs per duck for ten months.

There are seventeen fowls in the flock and on many days every duck
has laid an egg.

2 OFFICES TO SEE FIGHT IN PRIMARY HERE

Four Democrats Seek Nomination for Mayor,
Same for Treasurer

PRIMARY IS TUESDAY

All Forces Busy Lining
Up Their Support

While candidates for contested
city offices are busy lining up their forces for a concerted drive for votes the latter part of this week,
the eyes of Circleville's voting populace who realize their duty at the polls are turned toward primary election day, next Tuesday,
Aug. 11.

Only two contests are found,
both on the Democratic ticket,
where four seek the nomination
for mayor and a like number desire to become the Democratic party's candidate at the November election for city treasurer. The Republican ticket, almost a complete
one, finds no opposition for nomination.

RACE EXPECTED

More interest than is usually found at a primary has been voiced during the past few weeks with the contests for mayor and treasurer leading the fireworks. Candidates for the right to oppose Mayor B. T. Hedges, incumbent, at the November polls, are George M.
Ritterbach, Willis L. Henry, Harry
W. Moore and William B. Cady.
All are confident of their nomination and all are spending plenty of time covering the city in quest of more Democratic voters.

While the mayor's race is bound to be a hot one, that for city treasurer to succeed Paul Helweggen,
who will not be a candidate, is also a torrid one. Lawrence J. Johnson, Charles E. Fellers, George E.
Hammel and William J. Howard seek the right to oppose Oscar Turner, Republican, in November.
This contest is expected to be one of the closest in recent years, each candidate having his followers.

Miss Lillian Young, Democratic
city auditor, goes to the polls unopposed in either party.

MOVIE STARS NOT INJURED

Several Aboard Wrecked
Train in Arizona in Which
Two Are Killed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 5.—
The engineer and fireman were killed and several other members of the train crew and passengers were injured in the wreck of the Argonaut express train bound from Los Angeles to New Orleans at Dome, thirty miles east of Yuma, Arizona early today, according to advice received by Southern Pacific company headquarters here.

The engineer was Gus B. Steyaert and the fireman James William Moser, both of Yuma.

The company announced that no
other of the train crew or passengers were seriously injured.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal. — Famous
film actors were aboard the Southern Pacific railroad train wrecked
at two o'clock today near Dome,
Arizona, fifteen miles east of Yuma.

Edmond Lowe, Warner Baxter and Conchita Montenegro were among the principals it was said
at the box film studio here. The company of which Irving Cummings is the director left Los Angeles late yesterday to produce
"The Cisco Kid" at Tucson, Arizona.

CORCORAN NAMED

Willis Corcoran, Circleville Route 7, is a member of the grounds committee to arrange for the fourth annual Ross-co 4-H Club and Farmers' Picnic which will be held at the fair grounds,
one mile east of Chillicothe, Wednesday, Aug. 19.

A large number of farmers
from this community are expected to attend the picnic.

TESTIMONY IS COMPLETED IN DAMAGE TRIAL

Early In September Is Probably Date for Resumption of Case

TO GIVE ARGUMENTS

Four Witnesses Examined
Tuesday Afternoon

All testimony was completed and both plaintiff and defense rested
their cases in the $25,000 damage suit trial of H. M. Crites, S. Court-st, against the Standard Oil Co. for an alleged breach of contract, Tuesday at 4 p. m. The case was continued until an unannounced
date when plaintiff and defense attorneys will make their arguments
before Judge J. W. Adkins. Transcription of all testimony in the case will require at least two weeks, attorneys will need at least ten days after the testimony is placed in their hands to prepare their arguments and it is not expected the arguments will be made until early in September.

CALL 4 WITNESSES

Four witnesses were examined
Tuesday afternoon. H. M. Crites, the plaintiff was called to the stand at the opening of the afternoon session after testifying most of the morning. Mr. Crites continued to make his charge that the Standard Oil Co. had misrepresented
the situation to him, that he had been defrauded in some ways and the Standard Oil Co. had broken its contract.

Some of Mr. Crites' statements made on examination by plaintiff
and defense attorneys follow:

"I did not consent to the cancellation of the sub-lease agreement which White got hold of and did not give him the lease for any purpose.

"I told Alkire I was going to buy gasoline in car-load lots.

"Mr. C. H. Wilson called me by long-distance telephone one evening and told me that all arrangements had been made to supply
my station with kerosene gas (a cheaper gasoline).

"I discovered in June, 1930 that the Standard Oil Co. was selling gasoline to my tenants and other farmers at the same price I was paying for it.

"I paid one cent below the retail filling station price for gasoline bought from the Standard,
previous to becoming their dealer.

"The so-called identification cards were an expense and trouble
and did not accommodate me.

"I paid some of the gasoline bills of my tenants which showed
they were buying gas at the same price I paid.

Pearl Deaton, Ohio Supervisor of the Standard Oil Co., maintained in his testimony Monday that Mr.
Crites made a three cent profit on gasoline purchased before he became a dealer. He also said that the identification cards were an advantage in that he received a commission for honoring them.

Allen Lawler, Columbus, bulk station manager of the Ohio Division, Standard Oil Co., was the second witness called to testify in the afternoon. Mr. Lawler stated
he was familiar with all accounts
of dealers in this division and displayed a ledger account of H. M.
Crites. This account showed that Mr. Crites' tenants and the filling

LIVE WIRE KNOCKS MAN TO GROUND

William Piper, W. Huston-st., suffered a painful injury at 9 a. m.
Wednesday when he touched a live wire and was knocked to the ground while working at the Container Corporation of America.
After undergoing treatment at the office of Dr. Harry D. Jackson he returned to his work, however.

Piper was working on the con-veyor in the straw-yard when he touched the wire. The circuit should have been closed but was not, resulting in the accident.

FIRST COUPLE IS GRANTED LICENSE

The first couple to appear at the marriage license bureau in probate court on the five-day application plan was granted a license at once by Judge E. A. Brown Tuesday afternoon.

The application of Russell Denny
Dowden, 22, of this city and Emma Augusta Wood, 21, of New Holland
was waived and a license granted
at once for the reason that the couple expected to move to Columbus at once and there was no impediment in their marriage.

Rev. W. F. Rutherford performed
the marriage.

Law Rights a Wrong

Society's wrong to Eugene Piantkowski (left) became right when Judge Philip Finnegan, of Chicago, ordered him freed from serving a sentence in Pontiac Reformatory for a crime he didn't commit. The youth is shown taking Public Defender Benjamin Bachrach (right) and Captain Joseph Goldberg for their assistance in helping him prove his innocence following conviction.

Transfer Ward To Toledo Area

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 5.—State
prohibition inspectors were notified today that they must immediately start covering more territory
to make up for reductions in the department force made necessary
by budget slashes demanded by the state legislature.

State Prohibition Commissioner
Clarence Sears and Deputy Commissioner E. G. Mathews issued an order which reduced state prohibition from 12 to seven, placing far greater responsibility for enforcement upon each agent.

Under the plan used before the budget slash was ordered, each district contained from six to eight counties. Under the new arrangement, inspectors in each district
will be required to cover from 10
to 12 counties.

Sears and Mathews called upon every agent to "make every effort
to enforce the prohibition law, despite this handicap."

Confidence that the agents will be able to enforce the law better than the public expects was expressed in a statement by Mathews
which said that "we have far exceeded the record of our predecessors." He explained that the prohibition department under the administration of Commissioner Sears
has made more arrests and obtained
more sentences of fines than the administration of former Commissioner Rupert P. Beetham.

District headquarters will be located at the following cities, with the following man as inspectors;
under the new arrangement.

Toledo—Earl Cullison of Coshecton, John G. Ward of Circleville.
Mansfield—O. P. Davis of St.
Clairsville, W. C. Walters of Monroeville, Robert Landfair of Columbus.

Akron—L. C. Fleming of Toledo,
Al Humphrey of Ashabula, Wayne
Preston of Columbus.

Lima—A. C. McDougal of Woodfield, John Cheshire of Cleveland.

Columbus—Charles Boudot of Cincinnati, C. W. Mulachy of Lima,
O. O. E. Daniels of Cincinnati.

Nelsonville—Tom S. Bush and Michael Poyma of Columbus.

Cincinnati-Portsmouth — Thur-
man Rowland (at Cincinnati); L.
C. Farmer of Portsmouth (at Portsmouth), and Ernest Dowdle
of Waverly, both offices.

FAMED JUDGE SHOOTS SELF

Alfred J. Murphy, Veteran of Circuit Court, Found Dead
In Home.

DETROIT, Aug. 5.—Judge Alfred J. Murphy, veteran of the circuit court here and at one time a nationally known trial lawyer, today was found seriously wounded
in his fashionable home. A revolver was found nearby. Police declared that a bullet from it had pierced his forehead. He is believed a suicide.

Judge Murphy served as trial
attorney for Henry Ford in a $1-000,000 libel suit against a Chicago
newspaper in 1919. The verdict gave the automobile magnate six cents damages.

The jurist had been in ill health
for several months. His condition was said to have been aggravated by nervous strain resulting from a grand jury investigation of the defect federal bond and mortgage company of which he was president.

BIDS WANTED ON SALT CREEK WORK

Bids will be received by the state department of highways for the construction of a concrete box
invert on section "A" bridge of

Lindberghs Arrive At Aklavik, Passing Most Perilous Part Of Trip

Where Flyers Are Today

By International News Service.
Colonel and Mrs. Charles A.
Lindbergh, Tokyo-bound, arrived at Aklavik after taking off on perilous route from Baker Lake, Northwest territory, last night.

DO-X, giant German sea-
plane, hopped off from Rio De Janeiro at 4:30 a. m. Circleville time, on flight to New York.

Miss Amy Johnson, British
aviatrix, arrived at Seoul,
Korea, from Mukden at 7:38
a. m. Tokyo time, today enroute from London to Tokyo.

James Goodwin Hall, New York speed flier, hopped off
from Roosevelt Field, New York, at 5:17 a. m. Circleville time, in an attempt to set a new record for a New York-Chicago flight.

Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herdon, Jr., resting up at Kharbarovsk, Siberia, for contemplated flight from Tokyo
to Seattle, Wash.

Russell Boardman and John Polando still being entertained at Istanbul, Turkey, following their record-breaking flight from New York to that city. No definite announcement of their next move.

FOUR SWEEP INTO OCEAN

Tampico, Mexico, Is Under Water as Result of Two Weeks' Rain.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 5.—Three men and a woman were swept out to sea and a large portion of Tampico was under three feet of water today as the result of two weeks of continuous rains in northeastern Mexico, according to dispatches received in Mexico City.

The dispatches stated that the flood waters of the Panuco, Tame-sio, and other rivers had inundated 25,000 square kilometers in northern Vera Cruz and southern Tamaulipas, several villages being completely under water.

Scores of people clinging to roofs and treetops were rescued
by police and firemen in rowboats
and many bodies were reported
seen floating out to sea.

The two weeks of rain was climaxed by a torrential downpour lasting a day and a half.
Heavy damage was caused to crops, livestock and buildings.

GILBERT, CLAIRE MARRIAGE AT END

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 5.—
The marriage of John Gilbert and Ina Claire stood dissolved today with Miss Claire declaring she "couldn't live with him any more"
and Jack asserting that
"Miss Claire has been a lady
through it all."

Gilbert was not present yesterday at the star chamber divorce
session held by Superior Judge Joseph P. Sprout. Miss Claire
was there, however, as were Paul Bern, motion picture executive,
and Stona Larson, the actress' secretary. The latter two were corroborating witnesses.

WHITE TO ATTEND AUDITOR'S MEETING

County Auditor Clifford M.
White and deputy auditor T. D.
Kinn expected to attend the meeting of county auditors of the state
which will be held at the Deshler-Walkick hotel in Columbus beginning at 10 a. m. Friday. The meeting has been called by A. J.
Krauss, commissioner of the state
tax commission.

The purpose of the meeting will be to discuss matters of importance
relative to the county auditor's duties as affected by the new tax bill.

Attorney C. D. Layton of Columbus will assist in explaining the provisions of the bill.

Urges Capone Quiz

Evidence brought out in Federal Court, Chicago, when Al Capone, notorious gangster, appeared for sentence before Judge James H.
Wilkinson, and hastily asked to withdraw his plea of guilty, will bring about a searching Congressional investigation if Senator Thomas D. Schall (above), of Minnesota, can do anything about it.
The blind Senator has demanded
all correspondence in the Capone
case in advance of urging an exhaustive probe.

FORMER LOCAL WOMAN TAKEN

Mrs. Rindsfoos Passes Away
At Chautauque, N. Y.,
Funeral Here.

Mrs. Mary Rindsfoos, 79, Columbus, widow of Samuel Rindsfoos,
and a well known former resident of here, died suddenly at 11 p. m.
Monday from acute dilatation of the heart while on a visit to Chautau-que, N. Y., according to word received here.

Surviving are her two sons, William and C. S. Rindsfoos of Columbus and two daughters, Mrs. James Caldwell of Columbus and Mrs.
Elizabeth VanGeisten of New York, three grandchildren, a brother and sister.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Thursday at Mrs. Caldwell's residence at 141 S. Drexel Ave., Columbus. Interment services will be held at Forest-Cemtery, this city at 11:30 a. m.

TEMPERATURE AGAIN IS UP

Relief Reported Coming From Canada; Mercury Climbing Wednesday.

Temperatures pushed up toward the nineties again today while Circlevillians looked forward hopefully to promised relief from the north.

The mercury was expected to reach 90 here today but weather
forecasters stated cooler weather
was sweeping down to the middle west from Canada.

A reading of 83 was recorded
here yesterday with most sections
of the middle west reporting botter weather.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—With another day of temperatures above the nineties in prospect, Chicago today looked forward hopefully to promised relief from Canada.

The mercury was expected to reach 95 here today but government forecasters stated cooler weather was sweeping down to the middle west from Canada.

A reading of 92 was recorded
here yesterday with most sections
of the middle west reporting hotter weather. Throughout Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana temperatures were in the lower nineties,
but in central states west of the Mississippi thermometers neared
100 degrees. At Huron, S. D., it was 102 degrees yesterday, while Minneapolis, Bismarck, and Rapid City reported 98 degrees, and Davenport 96.

Air Pioneer and Wife Swoop Down on Arctic Zone Early Today

COVER 1100 MILES

Residents Turn Out. En-masse to Great Pair

AKLAVIK, N. W. T., Aug. 5.—
Flying on schedule, Col. Charles A.
Lindbergh and his wife landed here
in their Lockheed Sirius amphibian
at 3:05 a. m. Pacific Standard Time today.

The flight from Baker Lake,
where they took off yesterday at 5:45 C. S. T., took slightly more than eleven hours.

The Lindberghs surprised this town on the Mackenzie river as their plane swooped down from the skies. No word had been received here on the rim of the arctic of the takeoff of the famous flyers
from Baker Lake.

SWOOP TO EARTH

Dropping down from the muck
of a northern twilight, Lindbergh
and his wife were greeted by a chorus of howls from hundreds of husky dogs on the river bank as the big plane landed gracefully on the Mackenzie river.

As soon as word of their landing
spread, the residents of this town turned out enmasse to greet the great flyer and his wife.

Their plane was made fast to the river bank and as they stepped out Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh found themselves before a group of traders, trappers, mounted police,
missionaries, several wireless operators and the few white women who reside here.

In the background Indians and Eskimos who had trekked hundreds of miles from the wilderness
to be in this town to see the famous flyer about whom they had heard so much.

The well-known Lindbergh smile
flashed from the cockpit of the monoplane as it taxied to the bank. Mrs. Lindbergh, smiling happily, waved a greeting to the group on the bank.

BOTH ARE FRESH

Both flyers looked fresh and cheerful despite the grueling 1,100 miles of night flying over the Arctic wilderness. They supervised the mooring of the plane and then were taken over by the group of white people here who were ready to show them the hospitality of the Arctic.

The flyers experienced good weather on their flight over the barren north. Storms which swept the Arctic regions until yesterday
subsided and no difficulty was experienced on the trip, Col. Lindbergh said.

By stopping at this town near the Arctic ocean, the Lindberghs
visited one of the northernmost municipalities in Canada. In the district of Mackenzie of the northwest territories on the eastern end of the Esdiott range of rugged,
dangerous mountains Aklavik's
only connection with the outside world is by radio.

In the land of the caribou Ak-lavik represents one of the great fur trading centers of the northern wilds.

Col. Lindbergh's flight from Baker lake took him across the Coppermine river, the Great Bear Lake and hundreds of miles of barren wilderness visited only by Eskimos, Indians and trappers.

DR. J. H. KNEISLEY DIES IN CINCINNATI

Word has been received here of the death of Dr. Joseph Howard Kneisley of Cincinnati, who died suddenly at his home last Friday,
after a heart attack.

Dr. Kneisley was well known here having spent his boyhood days in Pickaway-co.

BITES ARE FRIDAY

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Isaac Fowler, east of Stoutsville, for Mary Elizabeth Pearce, 14, who died in Columbus, Rev. W. F. Rutherford will conduct services which will be followed by interment in Forest cemetery by M. S. Rinehart.

BYRD FUNERAL

COCA COLAS DEFEAT INDIANS, TO PLAY GROCERY 9 TONIGHT

Bat in 14 Runs Taking Advantage of Several Breaks; Game Tonight to Have Importance; Vlerehome or Watson to Oppose Lynch or Maloney on Mound in Duel.

A contest that may have a bearing on the outcome of the second half chase of the recreation ball league will be played at Utilities field this evening when the Ind. Grocers, riding on top of the league, tangle with the Coca Colas. The Cokes are three games behind the Grocers but a defeat for the league leaders tonight would reduce their chance of gaining the title. The Grocers lost their last contest to the Oils after apparently having the chase sewed up in the old kit bag. The game tonight will start at 6:30 p. m.

The Coca Colas showed a lot of batting strength and displayed a good defense in turning back the Red Men Tuesday evening, 14-6. The Red Men scored two runs in the first frame on two clean hits and a wild throw, then were through until the eighth after the Coca Colas had taken a commanding lead. The Cokes counted three runs in the first frame and came back with six in the third. Two in the fourth and two in the sixth with one added in the seventh made up the total of 14 runs.

Crum started on the mound for the Red Men but left in favor of Ray Smith. Eleven hits were gleaned from the two hurlers while Frank Lynch for his pop-shoppers blanked out nine bingles. Jack Heeter for the Cokes got the longest hit of the game, a triple.

Four players on each team connected for two safeties.

PLAYERS COLLIDE

Heeter, Coca Cola center fielder, was forced to leave the game in the eighth inning when he and Pinky Wilson collided in trying to catch Coby Radcliff's fly ball. The drive was a long one and both boys chased as fast as they could after it. Both reached at the same time for the ball when they collided. Wilson immediately arose and winged the ball to the infield but Heeter had to be helped from the field with an injured leg. He sustained a muscle bruise.

The fielding of Cuzz Dumm at short stop for the Cokes was a feature of the contest.

HERMAN TO CUBS

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—The Cubs were regarded as being in the process of reconstruction today following the purchase of Billy Herman, second baseman, from Louisville of the American association.

This action was believed to be the first of a number resigned to revamp the Chicago club. Herman will report in the fall. He is 22 and up to Saturday was batting .363 with Louisville.

President William Veeck did not divulge the amount of cash handed over for Herman, but intimated it was considerable. In addition, the Cubs will give Louisville two players.

Beverly Has Crack Course For Jones-Less Tourney

By HENRY MOLDEN
CHICAGO — Beverly Country club, where the national amateur will be played, August 31-September 5, is making its preparations early for the first Jones-less amateur meet since 1916.

At present the Beverly course is in excellent condition; golf experts say it couldn't be better. The problem now is to hold that condition which would make Beverly's fairways superior to those at Scioto and Inverness where the Ryder, cup match and the national open championship were played.

The greens have grown a bit heavy, but Ben Stevenson, grounds keeper, says that is because he wanted to keep them protected from the hot sun.

Several new bunkers and traps have been added making the premium on straight wooden shots higher than ever. The first nine holes are tricky and it takes careful playing on the second nine to come home with scores around 80.

Golf addicts, noting the 144 holes it took to find Bobby Jones' successor in the open are wondering now many play offs will be needed in the amateur.

Jones won five national amateur titles in his group of 13 national championships, in 1924, 1925, 1927, 1928 and 1930. Jerry Travers won four in 1907, 1908, 1912, 1913, to be the only golfer ever to approach that record.

There is no doubt that the amateurs feel as relieved over Jones' absence from this tournament as the professional did. But they still have his scores to shoot at.

His first one was won from George Von Elm, 9 and 8, after years of fruitless endeavor. For beginning at fourteen, the Atlanta wizard played in eleven major tournaments in seven years without winning one.

In 1925, Bobby defeated his protegee, Watts Gunn of Georgia Tech, 8 to 7, at Oakmont, near Pittsburgh. Von Elm defeated Bobby, 2 and 1, in 1926 at Bal-

TRADE CAMPBELL, YOTER TO INDIANS

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 5.—Pitcher Archie Campbell and infielder Elmer Yoter, who has been playing third base, were on their way to the Indianapolis American Association team today and Pitcher Mike Cvangros and infielder William (Cap) Narlesky were climbing into Columbus uniforms, following their trade yesterday.

Right after the game between the Red Birds and the Minneapolis Millers, Larry MacPhail, president of the Red Birds, announced that the two Columbus players had been traded for the two Indians. No cash was involved in the deal, it was said.

The new Birds are expected to be in uniform for today's game with the Millers.

Columbus—A few minutes after Pitcher Archie Campbell and Outfielder Elmer Yoter had played big parts in helping the Red Birds beat Minneapolis in an American association game, 4 to 3, they were notified they had been traded to Indianapolis.

CIG TAX COLLECTION PLANS COMPLETED

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 5.—Tentative plans for the collection of the state cigarette tax were completed today when Frank Miller, Paulding realtor, was appointed by the state tax commission to head its cigarette tax division.

Miller, whose salary will be $3,000 yearly, will take office at once. He formerly was secretary to Former Congressman Timothy T. Ansherry of Defiance.

In announcing Miller's appointment, tax commission officials also stated that they had ordered 200,000,000 stamps which will be applied to cigarette packages under the new state law.

Tax commission officials predicted that considerable expansion may be necessary here to administer the new tax.

The state now is being laid out into districts, and an examiner will be appointed to each one, it was said.

Exactly how many examiners will be necessary has not been determined. When the law was proposed to the general assembly, it was said that 40 men might be required to handle the tax.

Miller will supervise the selection of the examiners, it was said. He was expected to start considering candidates at once.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK
by Edison R. Miller

That the outstanding features of well advertised products are meeting the approval of people everywhere.

Many slumbering business concerns are waking to the value of continuous advertising and are starting now to build up trade by using the printed page not only in a while, but all the while.

The reading of advertisements before buying has taken such hold on the public that only continuous advertisers can expect to get continuous business.

The dealers who advertise quality continuously are those who have the greatest business.

People who buy advertised merchandise buy satisfaction.

Advertising is more valuable today than ever; it meets the selling requirements of every fine business.

Everywhere the rapidly increasing demand for advertised products is bringing great prosperity to those who use the aid of continuous advertising.

Business concerns who know the worth while opportunity to increase business when they see it in ceaseless business by increased advertising.

Continuous advertising will not only make repeat sales from old customers, but will also attract new ones.

VACATION plans blasted by this last minute trouble... the expense wallops his pocketbook like a bolt from the blue... yet this costly experience is common enough among oil-skimpers.

As 70% of all costly engine repairs originate with poor lubrication, it would seem the better way to save money is by keeping your crankcase charged with good clean oil... it prolongs the life of your car. Each oil change is like a deposit of motoring miles in the bank.

By using Sohio Motor Oil you get an unusually high rate of interest. For, in addition to being a more effective all-purpose lubricant, Sohio Motor Oil is free from harmful wax.

Nation White Population Now 88.7 Percent Of All

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The white population of the United States on April 1, 1930, aggregated 88.7 per cent of all persons living within the country, while the negro population made up 9.7 per cent of the total, the census bureau announced today.

Due to the falling birth rate and the restrictions on immigration the increase in the white population from 1920 to 1930 of 15.7 per cent was somewhat slower than during the preceding ten years when the gain was 16 per cent.

On the other hand the negro population from 1920 to 1930 showed an increase of 13.6 per cent, which compared with a gain of but 6.5 per cent in the ten years prior to 1920.

Total population April 1, 1930, was 122,775,046 divided as follows: White, 108,864,207; negro, 11,891,143; Mexican, 1,422,533; Indian, 332,297; Chinese, 74,954; Japanese, 13,894; Filipino, 45,208; Hindu, 3,130; Korean, 18,860; all other, 780.

The high increase among races of importance in the makeup of the American population since 1910 was 108.1 per cent for Mexicans. The white population in 1910, however, included 700,541 persons who would have been counted as Mexicans in 1930.

The Japanese population gained 25.1 per cent between 1920 and 1930. This was a gain of approximately 27,000 for the entire United States, 27,661 of which was in the Pacific coast states of Washington, Oregon and California. The Japanese were mainly concentrated in California which had 97,456, an increase of 25,504 in ten years. There were 17,837 Japanese in Washington and 4,958 in Oregon, both small increases.

"The Mexican element in the population has increased very rapidly in certain parts of the United States during the past ten years," the bureau said, referring to the south west, mountain and Pacific coast states.

This population therefore was given a separate classification. Enumerators were instructed that "all persons born in Mexico or having parents born in Mexico, who are not definitely white, negro, Indian, Chinese or Japanese, should be returned as Mexicans." Under these instructions 65,965 persons of Mexican birth or parentage were returned as white and 1,422,533, as Mexicans, according to the report.

Of the entire Mexican population in this country 1,316,453 were in the west south central, mountain and Pacific states; Texas leading with 683,681, followed by California with 368,013, Arizona with 114,173, New Mexico 59,340 and Colorado with 57,676. Comparison of the Mexican population with 1910 was not given.

"Nearly two thirds of the whole increase in the Negro population between 1920 and 1930 took place in the north, but the increase in the south, even after the departure of the largest number of negroes who must be assumed to have migrated northward, amounted to 449,346 or five percent of the southern Negro population in 1920," the bureau said.

There were 2,409,219 Negroes in the north in 1930, an increase of 938,901; 9,361,577 in the south, an increase of 449,346 and 120,347 in the west, an increase of 41,756. Thus Negroes in the north increased 63.6 per cent and in the west 53.1 per cent.

The negro population was greatest in the following states, with figures showing a comparison with white persons:

State	Negro	White
Georgia	1,071,125	1,836,974
Mississippi	1,009,718	996,856
Alabama	944,834	1,700,775
N. Carolina	918,647	2,234,948

In Georgia the Negro population declined 11.2 per cent and the whites gained 8.8 per cent. Mississippi showed an 8 per cent gain in negroes and 16.7 per cent in whites. Negroes gained 4.9 per cent in Alabama and whites 17.5 per cent while for North Carolina Negroes gained 20.3 per cent and white 25.3 per cent.

Michigan showed the greatest increase in Negro population with 182 percent to a total of 169,453 in 1930, followed by California with 109.1 per cent to a total of 81,048 and New York 108 per cent to a total of 412,814. New Mexico lost 50 per cent of its Negroes between 1920 and 1930 and Idaho 27.4 per cent.

The Pacific coast states had 41,631 of the total Chinese population in 1930, 37,361 of which were in California. New York's Chinese population was 9,665. Oklahoma had 92,725 Indians and Arizona 43,726.

too little nourishment from what food he does eat.

All the food in the world will not make us increase weight if we do not assimilate it. In fact, it often happens that a thin person can increase his weight by taking a smaller amount of food for it allows the digestive organs a better chance to function. Overloading the stomach has a tendency to break down the tissue and hampers the processes of digestion.

Exercise and fresh air are two essentials in building up the body, but the exercises must be designed to strengthen the abdominal muscles and organs, and must always be done in a completely relaxed manner without strain or tension.

The best possible exercises for this purpose are those done while lying flat on the back. They may be performed the first thing in the morning and need not take more than ten or fifteen minutes. If performed every day they will tone up the circulation and put the digestive apparatus in good working order.

A few suggestions for such exercises follow:

1. Lie flat on your back and draw the knees up until both feet are flat on the floor. Place a weight—a heavy book is excellent—on the abdomen and raise the weight up and down by contracting and expanding the abdominal muscles.
2. From a flat position with hands at sides, raise the right leg up as far as possible, keeping the leg straight and the toes pointed.
3. Repeat this movement with the left leg.
4. From flat position raise the legs from the floor and swing the right and left leg alternately.
5. From a flat position raise both legs up together and bring them down together, keeping the legs straight.

All of these movements are simple but excellent for strengthening the abdominal wall. They should be started on a count of four each which may be increased two counts each week until each exercise can be performed ten times without strain.

In addition to the exercises, the thin person must be extremely careful to keep regular hours, to get plenty of sleep, to spend at least an hour in the open air every day, to drink plenty of water, and to keep relaxed at all times.

Justice is blind, and some convictions for selling whiskey indicate that it can't smell or taste.

TO BUILD ENTIRE CITY AT ONE TIME UNDER U. S. PLANS

DENVER, Colo.—A city large enough to provide homes and markets for 10,000 people, completely equipped as to pavements, sewers, curbing, alleys and waterworks—but without a house in it—is to be built near the site of the Hoover dam in Nevada.

Eventually, of course, there will be houses and business buildings. The task confronting the construction company at present, however, is the building of the city without houses.

Boulder City, Nevada, is to be one of the new American cities which have been built according to a definite plan laid out before construction work was started. Longview, Wash., is said to be the only other city in the world built complete according to a plan.

Vincent K. Jones, in charge of building operations, is the man who is going to build the city. Although the government contract has not as yet been let it is known that Jones' bid is about $105,000 dollars below that of the nearest competitor, with a bid of $274,000. The contract is to cover labor only, the government to furnish all materials.

"We are ready to get started with the work within a week after the contract is awarded," Jones says. "Creating this city in the desert is supposed to be a seven-months job, but we expect to finish it in five."

"We will use about 400 men. There will be about 100 men of our own. The other 300 will be recruited from the hundreds of persons who have flocked to the dam site from all over the country."

"There are many advantages in building a city all at one time from a single plan," Jones said. "For instance," he pointed out, "you know in advance just where the residence district is to be and the location of the business district."

"From that you can tell which streets should have the thickest paving. Boulder City will have four classes of paving, one for the main business streets, another for the secondary business streets, a third for the residential districts and still another for the outlying sections where traffic will be lightest."

"Another advantage in building a town that way is that you know what districts will need the largest water mains. The whole plan for a city of 10,000 persons has been worked out carefully by the government."

"Boulder City will be unique in that it will have no parking problem. The plans adopted by the government engineers provide for parking areas at convenient points throughout the business district and at the end of certain of the residential streets."

NEW CHILD BIRTH AID

NEW YORK.—A new method, involving the use of a drug, for reducing pain during childbirth is now being used in a local hospital. After much experimentation doctors announced the use of pericon was effective with no after effects for either the mother or baby. The administration of pericon begins as soon as the pain becomes severe and the effects of the drug lasts approximately four hours. If necessary, it may be repeated with absolute safety, it is announced. The new method causes the patient to fall asleep and upon awakening she has no memory of pain. It was first introduced in Germany and now is expected to be used universally.

Los Angeles Big Jubilee To Close With Air Party

BY WALLACE K. RAWLES
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LOS ANGELES.—World aviation champions by the dozen are entered in the international air meet here Sept. 12 and 13 as the concluding feature of La Fiesta de Los Angeles, this city's 150th anniversary jubilee.

In the last announced by Col. Richard Barnitz, in charge of La Fiesta's air carnival are Ruth Nichols, woman's speed champion; Florence Lowe Barnes, from whom Miss Nichols wrested the speed laurels; Bobbie Trout and Edna Mae Cooper, world's women star sky-sitters; Captain Frank Hawks, transcontinental flying ace; Amelia Earhart, transatlantic broad-jumper, and Laura Ingalls, Art Goebel, Al Williams, John MacCready, Jimmy Doolittle and many others whose feats have made aviation history.

Motion picture notables also are being entered in a special event for the screen world. A number of film stars, including Ann Harding and her husband, Harry Bannister, Reginald Denny, Hoot Gibson, Wallace Beery and Ken Maynard, own and fly their own planes, and these are being invited to enter the fast-moving movie race, as well as Howard Hughes, producer, Clarence Brown, Tay Garnett and Melville Brown, directors, and Dewey Wrigley and William Dietz, cameramen.

A carnival feature of the tournament will be an amphibian race. Land-and-water planes will take off from Los Angeles airport, land on the sea, each pick up a real Fiesta bathing beauty, sail her back to the flying field, and the girls will footrace to the judges stand—Venus rising from the sea, winged heels of Mercury and all of that.

Six hundred flyers with 350 aircraft are expected to take part in the formation flying, military maneuvers, parachute contests, dead stick landings, "slow races" between parachutes and autogiros, smoke screen laying, miniature model contests and many other events.

Besides the two-day air meet, the fiesta program includes an all-nations tournament of riders in Olympic Stadium, where next year's Olympic games will be held; a musical fiesta with foremost Spanish and Mexican artists, as well as American stars, in the famous Hollywood Bowl; brilliant water carnivals at the nearby beaches; night illuminated "Shower of Stars" parade from Hollywood's film studios; an early-California opera with America's premier opera stars, in the civic Greek theater; a moving picture ball, with famous screen personages as hosts, and a grand review and illumination of the mighty United States fleet in the harbor.

Hollywood's Celebrities Also Have Superstitions

BY JAMES E. HILEMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—By their modes of transportation and superstitions you shall know of many of Hollywood's screen personalities.

Neil Hamilton, handsome actor, displays a tendency towards sports, indicated by his daily arrival at his studio on a racing bicycle. Cliff Edwards (Ukelele Ike) also peddles to work on a glittering cycle.

Wallace Berry, prominent player of villainous roles, goes in her automobiles and airplanes. He has the choice of a small but comfortable coupe or his powerful 16 cylinder model, but more often he selects his airplane for pleasure jaunts. Berry won't allow anyone to touch the switch of his airplane engine. It's bad luck, he believes.

Joan Crawford, beautiful and vivacious actress, rides to and from her work in her sport model car or limousine. Black carts convey terror to Joan. She will go any distance to avoid crossing the path of an ebony feline.

"Norma Shearer," "Greta Garbo," Marion Davies, Marie Dressler, Ramon Novarro and William Haines, ride in powerful limousines with a driver. John Gilbert tosses a coin to decide which car he will use. Buster Keaton rides about Hollywood in a runt roadster.

Lawrence Tibbett, Robert Montgomery, Lionel Barrymore, Lillian Bond, Edwina Booth, Dorothy Jordan, Leslie Howard, Conrad Nagel, and Marjorie Rameau prefer smaller cars and do their own driving. Dorothy Jordan and Marjorie Rameau are daring drivers.

Charles Bickford, Clark Gable, Adolphe Menjou, Monroe Owsley, and Kent Douglas do their joy jaunting in powerful roadsters. Nils Asther, Reginald Denny and Lela Hyams have a penchant for four passenger sport models.

Lewis Stone has a car for almost every event. The most impressive is for formal occasions with medium priced cars for other times and a roadster for open air drives.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile—Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute.

Decline In Smoking

SMOKERS will eat less before they will puff less, but this addiction to the weed that "makes a chimney of your nose" has not saved tobacco from feeling the effects of the depression. Unless more persons broke the habit than formed it during the last 12 months, which is highly improbable, the cigarette and cigar have struck hard times.

Consumption of cigarettes fell by 303,161,300 smokers. The country consumed 641,818,200 fewer cigars. Peak cigarette production, achieved in 1929, was 119,978,898. The 1930 production was 119,935,433,200. The 1929 and 1930 cigar productions were 6,548,676,000 and 6,328,465,800 respectively.

While people smoked fewer cigars and cigarettes, they did not necessarily smoke less. If they smoked one four-hundredth more of each cigarette than they did during the preceding fiscal year—and a cigarette is only two and three-quarters inches long—then just as much cigarette tobacco was smoked last year as in the year before. It was probably a lean year for the gutter-snipe.

Some may see in the decline of the last two years evidence that smoking among women is dying out. Their argument would be that since the rapid increase in cigarette production up to 1929 was largely due to the almost universal adoption of the cigarette production by the fair sex, it would follow that any decrease now would be due to collect taxes on tobacco that the curtailed production is due to the depression.

Although the cigarette has for years been weaning smokers away from the stronger and more costly cigar, it is probable that cigar production last year was harder hit by the depression than by cigarette popularity. It is a tradition among cigar smokers that they fall back upon the cheaper cigarette when hard times overtake them.

Gold Flows to France

WORLD Politics, at the risk of a world credit breakdown, is playing as darkly with gold as the imagination of poets and romancers has played brightly with it since the dawn of history. The precious metal has always been as dangerous as gunpowder in the hands of scheming statesmen.

Most countries have played international politics with gold in their time, but the arch offender right now is France. Her banks have been drawing their gold from English banks, obviously because $500,000,000 of German financial papers is now in London banks. Naturally, therefore, some of the financial strain experienced in Germany is communicated to the banking system of Great Britain.

Gold is the basis of dominant currencies and the standard of exchange in international trade. The exchange value of a given national currency is disposed to rise or fall in accordance with the amounts of gold held in reserve to guarantee its redemption at banks of issue. Currencies are sound and fluctuation-proof when the gold reserves behind them are well above the fixed margin of safety.

Normally, when banks in one country discount or buy sound commercial bills—as banks are always doing in one course of their daily business—they are content to leave the resulting gold credits undisturbed in banks of other countries against which many of the commercial bills are drawn. They hold this credit in reserve for further routine operations. Yet they have the power to draw the gold home at any hour's notice. That is what the French have been doing.

The great excess of gold in the United States is due to another cause over which it has no control. Its board of gold is due chiefly to the fact that international debts and interest are payable in terms of gold. Routine commercial operations built up France's reserve.

A NEW ROMANIAN PROBLEM

"MAKE-BELIEVE" by FAITH BALDWIN
Copyright, 1930, by Faith Baldwin Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Travers Lorrimer, shell-shocked war veteran and son of wealthy Margaret Lorrimer, mistakes pretty Mary Lou Thurston for Delight Hartford, whom he is supposed to have married in England. Mrs. Lorrimer induces Mary Lou to assume the role of Delight, of whom no trace can be found. Travers is told he must begin again with friendship. His interest in life is renewed. No mention is made of his marriage until the visit of Larry Mitchell, Mary Lou's friend. Then Travers, believing Larry is in love with Mary Lou, reminds her she is his wife. At Christmas Mary Lou, irritated by Travers' lack of holiday spirit, tells him selfish. Brought to his senses, he joins his mother and Mary Lou in delivering gifts to the needy. At the Veterans' Hospital Travers meets his old buddy, Jimmy McEwan, and plans to help him. Travers gives Mary Lou a sapphire ring and speaks of the seal ring he gave her. Mary Lou believes then that he really married Delight, using a seal ring. That night he kisses Mary Lou. Realizing she loves him and cannot go on pretending, Mary Lou plans to leave. Later she changes her mind. Mrs. Lorrimer remarks the change in Mary Lou to Dr. Matthews, who tells her he believes Mary Lou loves Travers. Mary Lou confides in Larry. Larry is in love with Jenny Wynne, a friend of the Lorrimer.

CHAPTER XXIX.

MARY LOU, dressed in knickerbockers and with a suede leather skating jacket, looked like a delightful if very efficient boy. She pulled off her woolen coat and shrugged herself out of the jacket, appearing in a soft brown flannel skirt and gay tie. Her lovely hair shone in the firelight and her cheeks were rosy red with the cold.

"Why is it," asked Jenny, "that when we skate or ski, Delight always looks like something on the cover of an expensive magazine? Me, I go out, armed for battle and all that, and only succeed in getting a red nose. But Delight is red where red should be, and white where white should be. Of course, she hasn't as much nose as I have. What do you think, Dr. Dan?"

"Circulation," answered that gentleman briefly. "But," said Jenny, triumphantly, "I exercise! I exercise like mad." "In sports," the rest of the time you eat too many sweets, smoke too many cigarettes, wear too high heels, dance too much and spend too much time in the shops."

"And Delight, I suppose," continued the unabashed Jenny, "is just a simple child of Nature?"

Curious Reaction. Lorrimer was untying a great parcel of books which had reached Westwood House that afternoon. "Delight," he said, looking up, "she set down her cup and went over his head that name, affected, she thought it, idiotic, the name of a silly, silly girl in a ridiculous way."

"Yes, Lorry."

"I wish she wouldn't," remarked Larry to Jenny. "Wouldn't what?" "Wouldn't call him that. I always prick up my ears like an obedient and startled bird dog, Lorry and Larry! Sounds like a couple of the Rollo boys. Too confusing."

"I'll call you Lawrence," offered Jenny brightly.

"That sounds too formal."

"What do you suggest?" she asked.

They were standing together by the fire. Larry dropped his voice and his cup almost followed it.

"Well," he replied, thoughtfully, "Lawrence, dear," would be nice. But "Lawrence dearest" would be nicer still. However, I think "Lawrence darling" would be almost good enough.

Jenny shook her yellow curls at him.

"Boy, you go too fast," she murmured.

Over by the big long table against the wall Lorrimer and Mary Lou were looking at the volumes in their bright jackets.

"Lots of reading matter," Lorrimer said. "We can dig ourselves in. Here are the French books you wanted, and biographies."

Mary Lou looked up at him. He was so tall she had to look up. His brown eyes were intent upon her face, intent and compelling. She felt a slow tide of color rise, flooding throat and face and brow. She looked away and opened a book which lay before her, idly, with a hand which shook, and followed a line of print with blind eyes.

Lorrimer drew a deep breath. He was no fool. He had seen. He had seen the response in her lifted eyes, the betraying color. His heart rose, light, within him. He had been troubled lately, feeling the change in her attitude toward him. None of them had seen anything, but all of them had sensed, intuitively, some sudden crisis of emotion.

Larry, of course, had to put it into words. He was not ordinarily a stupid young man, but he had been astonished into speech. "Where's she gone?" he asked, and Jenny answered, smiling at the sudden attention aroused by her simple statement of fact: "To dress for dinner, and it's high time she followed her example—Lawrence darling!"

There was malice in her tone. Larry jumped and glared down at her. Mrs. Lorrimer said, faintly: "Why, Jenny?"

But Jenny, who had brought a suitcase no bigger than a special delivery stamp, which meant that she was staying for dinner, was half way out of the room, in a flash of scarlet.

"She didn't mean it, you know," said Larry, embarrassed, to no one in particular. He was red as Jenny's costume, to the roots of his redder hair.

"An Apple a Day"—and Medical Science Agree!

Berlin Authorities, Following Tests, Recommend the "Moro Apple Diet"—Finely Grated Apples—in the Treatment of a Common Children's Ailment

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D.

United States Senator from New York.

Former Commissioner of Health New York City

HERE comes a new medical use for the apple. Because of recent work conducted in Berlin a diet of finely grated apples is recommended for young children with diarrhoea. Surprising, isn't it?

Acute or chronic diarrhoea is a frequent complaint of very young children in addition to its being a rather stubborn condition to treat, it often leaves the child in a very weakened condition. Following such an attack and even after prolonged treatment, the child suffers from lowered resistance and may succumb to some other ailment.

In preparing this diet which is called the "Moro Apple Diet," ripe yellow apples are peeled. The seeds and cores are carefully removed and the apple is reduced to a fine pulp by a grater.

The child receives three to four ounces of this food at each meal time. No other food is given. No medication is given and its supporters say it is not necessary to give enemas.

The diet is satisfying and so the child does not complain of hunger. In cases of extreme thirst, an occasional drink of cold water or tea may be given.

It is reported that in nearly 100 per cent of the cases the cure of the diarrhoea was prompt. After the diarrhoea ceases there may be a slight tendency toward constipation. This is temporary and usually adjusts itself.

As a rule the treatment is extended over a period of three to four days. If the condition reappears the treatment may be repeated. There is a lot of nourishment in the diet and no need fear that the child will starve.

Those who are familiar with the annoying and distressing symptoms of acute or chronic diarrhoea in a child will welcome this suggestion. It is so simple and so obviously harmless that it is worth trying. Anyhow, I wanted you to know what the Berlin doctors are doing.

'Man Without a Country' Shipped Back and Forth

BOSTON. — His claim to citizenship in Atlanta, Ga., having been exploded by United States immigration inspectors and his birthplace still doubtful, Peter Russell, the modern-day "man without a country" today was en route to Baltimore aboard the steamship Winona county.

Russell, a steamship fireman, denied entrance to both the United States and Great Britain despite his claim to be a subject of both, will be held under lock and key at Baltimore, just as he was in Boston, until the Winona county sails to Manchester, Cork and Liverpool.

Russell's American citizenship was thought established at Atlanta. When he joined the coastguard before going into trans-Atlantic service. Russell gave Atlanta as his birthplace and the date March 9, 1902. He said his nearest relative was Mrs. Sarah Campbell, of No. 321 East Main street, Atlanta. However, federal immigration inspectors combed Atlanta without finding Mrs. Campbell, neither could they locate her address nor vital statistics of that city show the birth there of Russell.

Subsequently, Russell put up the claim that Brighton, Scotland, near Glasgow, was his birthplace. He was deported to England but was refused permission to land by Manchester, England, authorities. The Manchester, England, authorities classed Russell as an American citizen.

Captain Richard R. Atherton, of the Winona county, keeps a close watch on the "man without a country" as he is liable to a fine of $1,000 if the young man escapes at any American port.

While the Winona county was docked at the army base here, Russell was kept confined in a small locker room forward. The ocean wanderer appeared ragged and unkempt. However, he seemed cheerful and did not appear to worry over his confinement. He spent most of his time reading and smoking. At mealtime he was taken out and escorted to the ship's galley for "grub."

Life on the "ocean waves" does not irk Russell, he said, for he has spent fifteen years of his short span of life on ships. During the voyage here from Liverpool he worked as a fireman.

Ken Maynard rides and fights his way through some of the most exciting adventures of his career in "The Range Fighter," a thrilling western serial which opens at the Cliftona Theatre Thursday.

In "The Range Fighter" Maynard lives up to his reputation for highly dramatic pictures which avoid the stereotyped variety. "The Range Fighter" in addition to its rapid-fire action, is rich in humorous sequences.

PRISONER AIDS CRIER

BOSTON—Praying to save the Commonwealth of Massachusetts is noble, decided Judge William Day in South Boston district court, but when a prisoner joins a court crier that's something else again. When a salutation of "hear ye" was begun at the opening of court, Daniel Driscoll, 54, of Dorchester, upon a charge of intoxication, joined in the prayer. Two husky officers were needed to quiet him. Judge Day ordered Driscoll back to police cell.

Filmy Allure
One of the most filmy, alluring woman photographed in some time is Li Dagover (above), beautiful German stage and screen star, who will come to this country in the Fall and make her first American picture. She ought to have no trouble working up a tremendous postal overload with "fan" mail.
Any member of the family of Dewey Speakman, 360 E. Mound-st, is invited to be a guest of The Herald to the Grand Theatre. Call at this office for ticket.

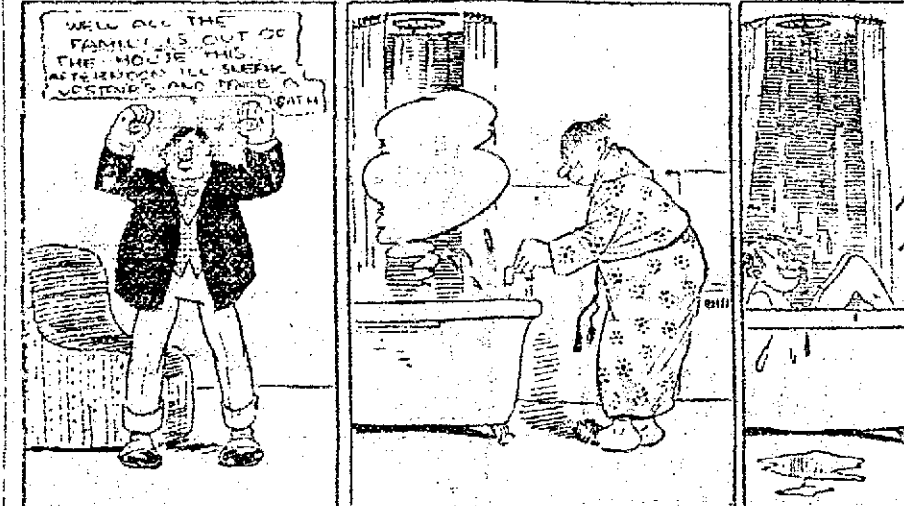

Unemployment Relief
SHOULD next winter find the unemployed situation still acute it will not find the United States unprepared. President Hoover is preparing for the worst and in time to meet any emergency, conferences for that purpose being held now instead of after the first snow.
The Red Cross and American Federation of Labor have already been consulted. The former organization does not use its funds for the relief of the unemployed but it is acquainted with conditions and can give expert advice as to the best means of meeting them.
President Green, of the labor federation, told the president he would not fear for next winter of the 20,000,000 workers now employed would spend instead of save. Fearful of losing their jobs next winter, they are spending only for necessities, thus keeping out of circulation money that would provide employment for the idle.
There has come from the conferences one settled policy — the burden of caring for the unemployed will be borne by the states and their subdivisions, rather than by the federal government, although Washington will help in any way it can. No doles or similar relief measures will be countenanced because of their demoralizing effect.
On all sides there is an optimistic feeling that conditions will not be as unhappy next winter as they were last winter, but the nation is not to be caught napping. There may be unemployment but there will be less suffering.

FRANCE'S 'BIGGEST' CLAIM
PARIS—France too, claim to have its share of some of the "biggest" things in the world. Among them is the highest all steel structure, the Eiffel Tower in Paris; the biggest wireless station in the world, at Saint-Assise; the 'Tourville' fastest cruiser; the most powerful searchlight, Mont-Vale-rien-Paris; the largest reinforced concrete bridge, Saint Pierre Duvaury; Le Bourget the biggest airport. The largest hangars in Orly; the largest underground canal, beneath the Rhone near Marseilles.
WOOL POOL AIDS FARMERS
BOSTON — The Massachusetts pool, under which farmers get 45 to 55 cents a pound for their wool, regardless of the market, will be fully twice as large as in any previous year, according to information sent to J. C. Copt of the State Department of Agriculture by C. D. Richardson of West Brookfield, who is in general charge of the pool. From eight convenient points, the farmer sends his wool to the mill and blankets are made from it. Enough blankets are returned to each farmer to represent the amount of wool he turned in, figuring that it takes 11 pounds of wool to make one blanket. The farmers have little difficulty in selling the blankets locally at $9 each which represents a return of $6.10, or 55 1-2 cents a pound for the raw wool.

station were buying gasoline at the same price, and therefore Mr. Crites was familiar with this situation of prices, which Crites claims he was not. The plaintiff's attorneys objected to the introduction of this ledger account as evidence but the objection was overruled by Judge Adkins.

GEO. CRITES CALLED

George Crites, S. Court-st., was the next witness called to give testimony. Some of his statements follow:

"I was present with my father when the authorized agent's agreement was made with O. P. White, Standard Co. representative.

"I did not myself and did not see my father give up the old lease and do not know how White obtained the lease.

"The Standard Co. did not live up to its price which it promised. At the meeting with us they promised a price of two cents below the tank-wagon price as posted at Circleville, and when the price later came it said two cents below the tank wagon price at Cleveland.

"The identification cards were a disadvantage in that the Standard-owned service station received the bulk of the identification card business. We did not get over $100 worth of trade through these cards.

A diagram to show that trucks and other machinery going into the Crites mill could enter through a driveway between the mill and scales was shown by the defense. Mr. Crites and son, George maintained that the driveway between the filling station and office was used for most of the trade in and out of the mill, and if the Standard Co. got hold of the station the trucks and other machinery going in by this way would disturb business of the filling station.

TELLS OF PRICE CUT

When asked by Attorney Hanning for the defense the reason for cutting the price of gasoline after they had taken out Standard Oil pumps and replaced their own, George Crites said, "We just cut the price of gas to meet the Standard Oil Co.'s tank-wagon price which was three cents below the service station posted price. I didn't know what other filling station operators in the city were charging per gallon, as I was only interested in maintaining our own price," Crites concluded.

S. F. Holliday, an employee in the S. Court-st. office of H. M. Crites, was the last witness to testify during the day. He merely said that he was present in the office with Mr. Crites and George when the authorized agent's agreement was drawn up with Mr. Alkire, a Standard Oil representative.

The largest crowd which has been present during all the days of the trial was in the court room Tuesday afternoon.

Court adjourned at 4 p. m. until Sept. 1.

MURDERESS AGAIN ESCAPES CAPTORS

FORT COLLINS, Colo., Aug. 5.—Authorities believed today that Lydia Southard, notorious murderess who escaped May 4 from the Idaho state penitentiary, has again slipped through their fingers.

Although all law enforcement officers in the northern portion of Colorado were advised to watch for Mrs. Southard and David Minton, ex-convict wanted for questioning in connection with her escape, no traces of them were found.

Their presence in this vicinity was reported by a woman who said she saw Mrs. Southard on a Fort Collins street Monday night.

EPIDEMIC OF RED ANTS CAUSES GRIEF

Many Circleville housewives are complaining of the "epidemic" of little red ants that seems to be spreading in Circleville.

These pests have been making their appearance in a number of Circleville homes and the stores selling eradicator are doing a great business.

The insects are one of the smallest food-destroying pests that are known today.

Eastern daylight saving time, July 22. He has been with the world's premier news picture organization for 19 years, never having worked elsewhere.

RETAILERS MEET IN CHILlicothe

Sam Joseph and Bob Maloney of Joseph's Clothing Store, W. Main-st., attended the meeting of retailers, bankers and newspapermen from nine Ohio counties which was held Tuesday at Highland's Restaurant in Chillicothe.

Questions discussed during the session dwelt on the slipping of volume and what could be done to stimulate it; the reduction of expenses and how they might be lowered without interfering with volume and how to move slow lines without too great a sacrifice.

A dinner was held following the afternoon meeting and in the evening Frank Stockdale of Chillicothe presented charts showing retail plans and practices that turned 1931 failures into successes and C. E. Dittmar, secretary of the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants, presented the legislative record.

STATE TAKES THREE BANKS

New York City Institutions Closed Because of Depreciation of Assets.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The state banking department today took possession of the business and property of three banks in this city. The institutions are:

The American Union bank.

The International-Madison Bank and Trust company.

The Times Square Trust Company and the Times Square Safe Deposit Company, both of which are located at the same address in Seventh avenue.

State Superintendent of Banks Broderick said that in the case of the three banks they were taken over because of the non-liquid condition and depreciation in the value of assets. Therefore, he added, it is deemed unsafe and inexpedient to permit the institutions to continue in business.

Liquidation will be started immediately. It is expected dividends will be paid in about ninety days.

Deposit liabilities as shown by the books of the Times Square Trust Company on August 1 were $1,438,000. Deposit liabilities of the American Union Bank were $7,094,000. Deposit liabilities of the International-Madison Bank were $6,811,000.

STILL OF 40,000 GALLONS IS FOUND

PATERSON, N. J., Aug. 5.—A 40,000 gallon still was seized by agents of the department of justice here today.

Fifty-five agents swooped down on the place at Wood and Shady streets and found what they described as one of the most complete stills in the country in operation.

Two huge vats, each filled with 15,000 gallons of alcohol and 11 vats, each containing 25,000 gallons of mash, were being operated by three men, all of whom were arrested after two tried to escape.

PUBLISHER'S WIFE CHARGE LARCENY

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Charged with defrauding a woman of $588, 98¢, Ernest Suffern and Philip J. Barnes, were to be arraigned in court today, facing grand larceny complaints.

Mrs. Ella De Revoise Patterson of Red Bank, N. J., made the complaint against the two men. She alleged she was misled in investments and stock she turned over to Suffern and Barnes sold without authority. Mrs. Patterson is the widow of a former New York manager for a publishing company who left her $1,000,000.

Orville Timmons of Hayesville paid a fine of $10 and costs to Mayor E. T. Hedges Tuesday after he pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication. He was arrested in the south end of the city at 3:45 a. m. Tuesday by Officer Fred Fitzpatrick.

Flight Aids Her

The successful transatlantic flight of Captains George Endres and Alexander Magyar to within a few miles of their goal, Budapest, means more than the usual pride for Mrs. Elizabeth Endres, mother of one of the daring Hungarian pilots. For George, by his spectacular feat, expects to earn sufficient money to give his ailing mother radium treatments and prolong her life. Mrs. Endres is shown ill in bed in her Cincinnati, Ohio, home.
